Summer, August 3 - 8, 2025

TUESDAY Storytime

The theme this week was WATERMELON. We read The Watermelon Seed by Greg Pizzoli and Ned's New Home by Kevin Tseng. Then we made watermelon slices out of paper plates, colored cardstock, and glue. They looked good enough to eat!

THURSDAY Storytime

The theme this week was STINGRAYS. We read Into the A, B, Sea: An Ocean Alphabet by Deborah Lee Rose and Rays by Martha E. H. Rustad. Then we made stingrays out of toilet paper tubes, paper, googly eyes, and markers!

SUMMER READING PROGRAM

Our sixth event, on August 5, was a craft! Patrons each decorated a canvas tote bag with fabric markers for their library books. Beautiful handwritten names and colorful images created with stencils made each bag lovely and unique!

Our next event will be on August 12: Miss Julieann "Level Up With Music & Resilience" - Join Miss Julieann for a unique program that combines the fun of music and games with valuable lessons in mental health and resilience! On the campus lawn across the street from the library. Bring blankets and chairs, bug spray and water.
